SOPHIE'S TIP

Spring into action in your garden

This is the time of year to feed the whole garden, your ornamentals, fruit trees, vegies and lawn, with organic-based fertilisers. This does not feed the plants, but rather it feeds the soil, improves soil structure, and encourages earthworm and soil microbial activity - the outcome is healthy plants in a healthy garden.

The sun is here.

SOPHIE'S TIP

To me, the best of a good garden is one which has colour and interest all year round. One way to achieve this is add long flowering perennials to your garden like Salvia, Daisies (Argyranthemum), Geranium and Lavender to name a few. These hardy, old-fashioned favourites bloom for many months, love a sunny position and can also be grown in pots.

SOPHIE'S TIP

Australian native plants are a great, hardy, waterwise choice for South Australian gardens, with many able to survive on rainfall alone once established. Not only have they got interesting, colourful flowers, they provide food and shelter for wildlife, helping to attract the birds, bees and butterflies into your garden. Many, like Isopogon, Kangaroo Paws, Billy Buttons and Geraldton Waxes also make great, long lasting cut flowers.

Beautiful Eremophilas

We have a selection of Eremophilas with different habits and different colours. These will add colour to any garden. 140mm pots

Grevillea Panrock Princess

SOPHIE'S TIP

Nothing beats the delicious flavour of home grown produce, especially tomatoes. Now is the time to prep your soil and get planting tomatoes and other warm season vegies for mouthwatering summer and autumn abundance.

If growing in the ground, make sure you have added compost and organic fertiliser, and if growing in a large pot, choose a premium potting media designed for vegies.
